It is widely used as a national symbol. First built during the Ming Dynasty in 1420, Tiananmen is often referred to as the front entrance to the Forbidden City. However, the Meridian Gate is the first entrance to the Forbidden City proper, while Tiananmen was the entrance to the Imperial City, within which the Forbidden City was located.

Forbidden city which has over 9,000 rooms and over 250 acres, was burned down and was rebuilt, sacked and renovated many times, so most of the architecture you can see today dates back to the 18th century in the Qing Dynasty.
